

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to voice my opposition to any proposal to lift the Cross-Ownership ban. I believe that this would result in a degradation of the quality and independence of the news media, and would not be in the public interest. Furthermore I am strongly dismayed and offended by recent public statements from the FCC which try and portray the review of these laws as an urgent 'patriotic' measure. This is a terrible disservice to the public trust.

Sincerely,

Brian Salter
